

Boston Orchestra Gives First Concert

By Sylvester Rawling.
B. KARL MUCK and the Boston Symphony Orchestra made a first appearance for the season at Carnegie Hall last night before a packed house that paid well deserved tribute to the conductor and to the excellent band that he directs. There was no subject. The programme consisted of Brahms's fourth symphony, followed by many, but played so expertly that even the most indifferent of listeners were attracted to the orchestra's execution of the work.

stated of Brahms's fourth symphony, followed by many, but played so expertly that even the most indifferent of listeners were attracted to the orchestra's execution of the work.

"Carmen," by the Boston Opera Company, had new representatives of Don Jose and Micaela at the Manhattan Opera House last night. Renato Martin, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company, was the soldier made disconcerted by the fateful coquetry of the cigarette girl, and May Schneider was the virtuous peasant girl who loved him and tried to save him. Mr. Martin was impassioned and pictorially effective and his singing was of his best. Miss Schneider, who has had experience in German opera houses, disclosed a tremolo not regarded there as a fault and a voice, otherwise, of some quality. The floral offerings bestowed upon her might well have been for a world's prima donna. Maria Gay as Carmen, Jose Mardones as Escamillo, and Belle Gottschalk, Fely Clement, Alfred Clement, Alfred Kaufman, Paolo Amabile, Pullit and Rosewood completed the cast. Mr. Moranzoni conducting. Miss Pavlova and her Russian ballet again gave distinction to the performance. Nothing like Miss Pavlova's individual, whirlwind, intoxicating dancing in the last act has been seen in New York. The audience reached to nearly the capacity of the house, and everybody stayed to the end. Once more, what a pity that this company is to leave us after this week!

Marcia Van Dresser gave a song recital at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon. Her programme began with a Brahms group, turned to French, then to Hugo Wolf, and finally to English. Miss Van Dresser's earnestness and sincerity, no more than her beauty, can be ignored. Unfortunately, her voice does not always respond to her intentions and sometimes it is off pitch. She was least to be liked in her French songs and she was happiest in Wolf's. Especially felicitous was her rendering of "In dem Schatten meiner Lippen," which she had to repeat and which she stopped abruptly when her inaudible friends burst in with inopportune applause. Thanks to Miss Dresser for this! Kurt Schindler, her faithful accompanist, who had suffered patiently before, grinned.

THE CIGARETTE OF QUALITY

"Any End in the House" Sale

Every three months I have a sale where I clean up everything that I have down to one or two suits, goods sold by me as high as $25.00. A chain of stores like mine requires piece goods, otherwise we have to call in the customer to make new section.

I want to clean up everything that is down to the end of the piece. Blue Serges, Black Unfinished Worsteds, Oxford Gray Thibets, Worsteds, Chev-lots, fine Kersey Overcoatings, fine Plaid Back Coatings; all the newer effects, made to your measure, suit or overcoat to order,

Here, there and everywhere in my store the tag, "Any End in the House $10 Sale," can be found. I have made a big shift in my New York store help, and it is to the benefit of every reader of this paper to call and see what I offer for sale, whether you purchase or not. Woolens, linings, trimmings and everything are going to the sky for prices.

The man thinking of getting a suit or overcoat three or four weeks from to-day would do well to step in to-day and order. If you don't order here, it gives you comparative value of what all worsted suits and all wool overcoats should bring for price. I can assure you of the services of the highest priced cutter in the clothing business.

To the readers of my ads the past few months, you will notice that I have raised the price on ready-made overcoats from $6.50 to $7.50, and if the prices of labor, trimmings and linings go up, I will have to raise that next week, but for the coming week
